Now's the time to start using electronic communications the way they were meant to be. Other systems have pointed the way, but were often amateur or bureaucratic.

Silicon Village is changing that...

Become a resident in the UK's first nation-wide electronic village and you will join an exciting new community of like-minded individuals. Whatever your interests, you'll find places of interest and new friends in Silicon Village.

All you need to join in, is a computer with viewdata software and a modem (or a simple viewdata terminal) ... plus a spirit of adventure! Complete the reply paid card if you need advice on low-cost equipment.

If you can already dial up services like Prestel®, set your terminal to call 081 759-6996 and log in right now using our FREE GUEST ACCOUNT for a guided tour! (ID is 4444444444, password 4444).

If you like what you see, you can join there and then. Alternatively, fill in the reply paid card and we will send you a registration pack with half an hour's full access to Silicon Village - completely free!

Incidentally, you don't need to be a whizz-kid to use Silicon Village! But, if you do get stuck you'll find lots of helping hands around to get you going again.
